The Atlas Element 2.0 contains 2mm² of concentric stranded OFC (Oxygen Free Copper) contained in a high density polyethylene dielectric (insulation layer), unusual at this price point where PVC is much more common.
Low quality dielectrics such as PVC typically degrade the music signal by imposing a characteristic blurring on the sound.
Element 2.0 is supplied in a pearl white finish, and can be terminated with 4mm Achromatic Z connectors or OFC spades.
